DIRECTIONS TO VIEW POTENTIAL CLASSES

You can find the course descriptions for courses that were offered in the previous year. While they might change slightly for the coming school year, they are likely to be similar.

Bellarmino cannot guarantee any class placements until the registration date. It is important that exchange students planning to study at Bellarmine have some degree of flexibility with their course selections. If they have a required course that needs to be taken during exchange, they should discuss this with the Study Abroad and International Programs Office before applying to Bellarmine for exchange.

COST

Please consult with home university regarding their specific exchange agreement. Tuition is waived for most exchange agreements.

*Some figures are based on the 2024-2025 year and are subject to change for the 2025-2026 year.

- Room: $2,810 per semester, based on double occupancy
- Meals: $2,650 per semester
- Residence Hall Fee: $25* per semester
- Living/Travel Expenses: $2,700* estimated per semester, dependent on personal choices
- Special Course Fees: Varies*
- Insurance: $510* per semester. Mandatory to purchase insurance via Bellarmine's approved international insurance

HOUSING

Website:

<https://www.bellarmino.edu/livingoncampus/>

Dormitory

Exchange students generally stay in Anniversary Hall. Rooms are double occupancy and students share a bathroom with 3-4 other students. Students have access to a kitchen in the building.

Housing Application

An additional housing application will be required but housing placement is guaranteed upon acceptance to the exchange program, if the student completes the housing application by the given deadline.

DINING SERVICES

There are various dining options on Bellarmine's campus. The main option is the University Dining Hall, which offers an all you care to eat buffet including salad bar, made to order dishes, grill, and more. The second main option is Palio, which is a smaller dining hall near to the dorms which offers both breakfast and late-night dinner. Additionally, there are smaller dining carts around campus offering "grab and go" items such as salads and sandwiches.

GLOBAL AMBASSADOR PROGRAM

Our Global Ambassador Program consists of Bellarmine students who are planning to or already have studied abroad. These students serve as a peer-support system for incoming exchange students while they are at Bellarmine. They help to answer questions, host cultural and holiday events, and are a friendly face on campus.

TRANSPORTATION

Bellarmino has an on-campus shuttle service that transports students from the dorms to various places on campus. There are a few forms of transportation around the city, though like many cities around the United States, cars are the primary mode for most people. Exchange Students often use Uber, bike, or walk to nearby restaurants and grocery stores.
