

Study Abroad at Regent's

Kate Pringle

Study Abroad Manager

Julia Weiner

Director of Content - Liberal Arts

A beautiful campus
set in a royal park close to all that
London has to offer

Why Regent's?

A face-to-face education

- Average 14 students per class
- A personal tutor to guide you throughout your studies
- Student-staff ratio of 13:1

Subject areas

- Acting, Film and Screen Production, Screenwriting and Producing
- Business and ...
- Fashion Design, Fashion Marketing, Interior Design and Advertising
- Liberal Arts: Art History, International Relations, Media and Communications
- Luxury Brand Management
- Luxury Hospitality Management
- Psychology
- Languages

30 ECTS per academic term

Special electives
Industry & Entrepreneurship

Art History and Art Business at Regent's

In autumn you could take:

Renaissance Art and Society

With classes in the National Gallery, V&A and a session making egg tempera paint and using Renaissance drawing materials (see top photo)

Art Business

Find out more about aspects of Art Business including art fairs, auctions, commercial galleries and private and corporate collecting. We visit Frieze Art Fair (see bottom photo) that takes place on our doorstep in Regent's Park as well as auctions and private collections.

Art in the Age of Revolution

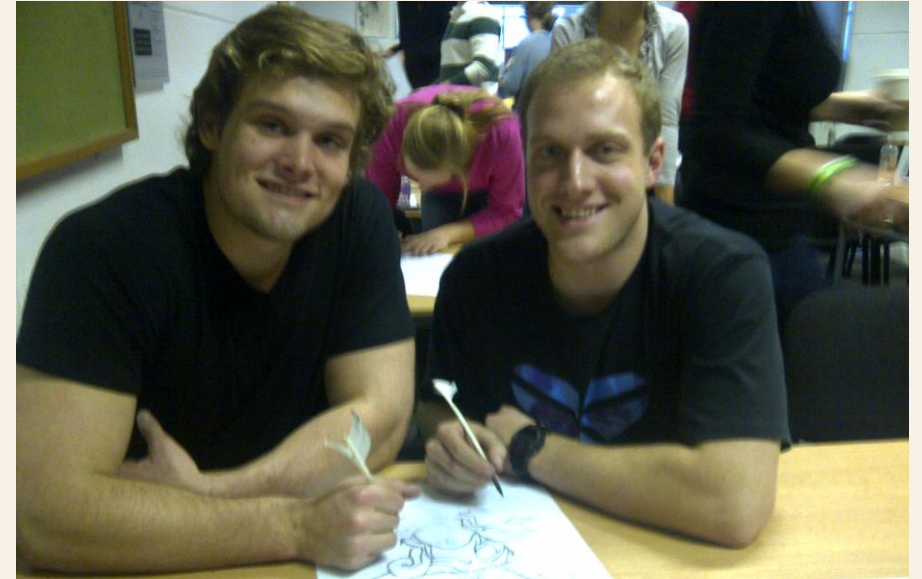

Visit the Wallace Collection, National Gallery, Tate and the Courtauld to explore art from Rococo to Impressionism.

Twentieth Century Modernisms

Engage with cross-disciplinary issues relevant to Modernism, including gender and sexuality, colonialism, the 'other' and the self, and examine how artists responded to the representation of these issues. Visits to Tate Modern, the Estorick Collection and other galleries will be included.

Situating Art

Explore how art functions in distinct social, cultural, economic and political contexts.

Media and Communications at Regent's

In Autumn you could take:

Media Histories and Futures

With field trips to the Brands Museum, the Postal Museum and the Science Museum (see top photo)

Digital Media and Society

Experiment with VR, make podcasts and enjoy an immersive experience (see bottom photo)

Global Media Industries

Includes a visit to the BBC in Cardiff

Interpreting Media

Examine and interpret a variety of media texts, including news, film, television, advertising, popular music, video games and online content

Media Ethics and Policy

Critically analyse the ethical, legal, political and environmental challenges in media and communications.

We also run the following International Relations modules:

Economics and Development; Global Politics - Contest for Supremacy

History of the Present; Globalisation and the City,

Diplomacy and Conflict Resolution

The UK capital is both your classroom and your playground

Practical focus

- Hands-on activities to learn through experience
- Visiting experts
- Networking opportunities

On-campus housing

- Single and Twin rooms
- Meal credit added to your ID card
- Food outlets on campus
- 24-hour security and reception
- Residential Assistants

regents.ac.uk/accommodation

Great places to meet your friends

Coffee shops, bars and restaurants on campus

So much to do!

- Student Union socials, societies and events
- Sports Teams (Be Active)
- Grand Autumn party
- London Tours
- UK and Europe trips

Application process

- Nomination from home institution (~ 4 months in advance)
- Receive application link and instructions from Regent's University London
- Fill out online application: upload a copy of your academic transcript and passport and select your modules
- Receive offer and accept

Visas

- Latest guidance on travel regulations can be found in the official UK government website (gov.uk).
- Unless you are a British national, you will need to enter the UK under the Visitor route.
- No work is allowed in the UK under the visitor route.

Any questions?

Website: regents.ac.uk/inbound

Email: studyabroad@regents.ac.uk

Phone: +44 (0)20 7487 7727

IG: @regentsunilondon

FB: <https://www.facebook.com/regentsuni/>

Thank you