"THE GROUP TUTOR"

Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore, by resolution of the Board of Directors of 16 July 1999 and the Academic Senate of 27 September 1999, set up the Group Tutoring service with the aim of accompanying students enrolling in the University's degree programmes, favouring activities to prevent them from dropping out or abandoning their studies.

Who is the Group Tutor?

He or she is a deserving graduate student, often already involved in teaching activities such as pre-courses and tutorials, or a subject tutor, PhD student or student at campus colleges.

The Tutor signs an annual contract, prepared by the Human Resources Management of Università Cattolica, for a maximum commitment of 350 hours to be carried out from September to July.

The activity of group tutor may be carried out for a maximum of four academic years, subject to confirmation by the Faculty Committee; in order to ensure greater proximity and ease in the tutor/student relationship, the maximum age limit for applying for a first assignment is set at 30 years.

What are the activities of Tutor of group?

He/she performs the function of involving and supporting the student's learning pathway, encourages group study and directs the resolution of the various problems that arise.

In particular:

- welcomes new students when they first enter the university, providing orientation and information support regarding the Faculty and its degree programmes;
- supports students in organising their study plan, planning examinations and identifying an effective study methodology;
- provides guidance on how to find one's way around the different offers the university has to offer, helping students to integrate them into a personal learning project;
- identifies possible obstacles to the learning pathway, with particular attention to the risk of isolation, one of the critical factors with regard to the sensitive issue of university drop-outs;
- carries out monitoring/contact/reception activities with students in difficulty, facilitating personalised support;
- welcomes new students enrolled in graduate programmes during the first weeks of classes, organising specific moments to provide information on the support and services offered by the university;
- supports secondary school students and undergraduate degree students during orientation events.

The activity is coordinated by the Orientation and Tutoring Office of the various campuses of Università Cattolica - Milan, Brescia, Piacenza-Cremona, Rome - and involves the constant supervision of the tutor appointed by the Faculty Council.

How and where does the group tutor operate?

Before starting the activity, the Tutor must attend a compulsory training course aimed at developing communication, relational, organisational and management skills for the conduct of individual interviews and group meetings; he/she also receives information on the University's services useful for carrying out the activity. He/she is supported by a team of psychologists for the management of particularly complex cases, as well as by the staff of the Orientation and Tutoring office.

He/she is assigned an institutional e-mail box which is used for communication with students and the relevant offices.

The Tutor can organise meetings in person in a dedicated classroom.

In view of the relevance of the activity and the complexity of the issues to be handled, the Group Tutor is subject to periodic checks with the offices in charge, the training staff and the Faculty contact person.
